

THE WINNING LOOK

LOCAL LOOK OF THE WEEK

Gauri definitely knows a thing or two about colour coordination. As a creative filmmaker, this fashionista knows exactly how to put an outfit together. Gauri loves to keep her look simple yet chic and describes her taste as a combination of sophisticated and playful. Her ensembles always have an edgy twist while she also loves to experiment with unique pieces that catch her eye. Our verdict? We absolutely love her vibrant spring-ready look.

HONG KONG TOURISM BOARD

With the Grazia Style Awards just around the corner, we're once again on the hunt for Grazia Middle East's best dressed reader. We're looking for someone who has the fashion flair to send the street-style paparazzi into a flashbulb mob, who puts fashion first and who lives and breathes the latest trends. Do you think you've got what it takes to be a street-style star? Then email at least one full-length picture to graziabestdressed@vip.com and you could be in with a chance of winning a shopping trip to Hong Kong, including flights, hotels and Tsh1,880 to spend. What?

GAURI CHADHA, 27, FROM INDIA

It's easy to see why Gauri has such a natural flair for style. Her personal mantra for dressing is, "Always to ensure that you wear clothing that best represents your personality, regardless of the trends, and always stay true to yourself." Dressed in a pretty blue printed dress by Opening Ceremony that Gauri picked up from Socialists Boutique, she pairs the frock with a pair of YSL blue sandals and finishes off the look with the perfect pop of colour from her orange Miu Miu bag. "I love to shop in stores that make you feel like you're buying something completely unique. Socialists is definitely top of my list as they have a hand-picked approach and they're always willing to explore," explains Gauri. Pretty and personalised fashion at its best. 1
